EVERY DAY MATTERS 2022 DIARY
A year of inspiration for the mind, body & spirit
Jess Sharp

The ever-popular Every Day Matters Diary is back with a new author and illustrator, Jess Sharp. A beautiful resource for enriching daily life, this holistic planner will guide you on a journey of self-awareness and fulfilment as you go about your everyday activities. This year’s themes range from gratitude and bravery, to resilience and kindness. Each week-to-view spread is illustrated with uplifting and dynamic artwork, featuring an inspiring quote that encourages reflection on the month’s theme, an affirmation and weekly exercises to optimize your wellbeing and optimism. Focusing on one theme for each month, tuning into a different aspect each week, allows a seed of inspiration and awareness not just to be planted but also to be nurtured throughout the year, so that positive action can become an integral part of your daily life.

Jess Sharp is a designer and illustrator and advocate for mental health awareness. Jess offers people gentle, positive reminders for when they need them most. Jess’s designs help to offer people a little bit of kindness amongst life’s ups and downs. Find out more on Instagram: @jessrachelsharp.

THE GRIEF HANDBOOK
A guide through the worst days of your life
Bridget McNulty

A practical, empathetic guide to help sufferers navigate through the heavy fog of bereavement. There is no “one size fits all” approach. Bridget McNulty shows us that the best we can do is understand our emotions, tune into our needs and communicate with those around us. A unique mix of self-help book and illustrated interactive journal, with exercises such as journaling prompts, sketching activities and self-care lists. The reader can move through their individual grief journey at their own pace. The book also includes clinically grounded advice from bereavement experts underpinning each activity. The loneliness of bereavement can take its toll on mental health. This book provides support and guidance so readers can move through the stages of grief with self-compassion and emotional agility.

Bridget McNulty is a writer, speaker, content strategist and mum, based in South Africa. She blogs at: www.bridgetmcnulty.com.
What is yin yang? And how can we work with it to improve our lives? Everyone has heard of yin yang – its famous symbol (the taiji) is used all over the world. Less well known is that this symbol stands for a profound philosophy of natural harmony, and that aligning ourselves with yin yang will make our lives fruitful and full of positive experiences. Step by step, with hundreds of helpful illustrations and graphics, this ultimate guide to a much-quoted but often misunderstood concept explores the history and meaning of yin yang. It also makes suggestions for how you can work with yin yang, from observing the ebb and flow of energy in the landscape, to studying the patterns of nature in order to take what you need (but not too much). After reading this book, you will understand how to position yourself so yin yang fills your life with abundance – you will know what being in the right place at the right time really means.

The traditional almanac is a month-by-month prompt to the beautiful transformations of nature that offer a magical and poetic way to celebrate the year. The Way Back Almanac is a modern twist on the conventional almanac, an accessible and truly contemporary guide back to natural rhythms, designed for those who feel most removed from the old ways and cycles. Both a practical companion to the year and a stunning piece of nature writing, it shows how even a busy modern life in a city can be infused with meaningful connections with the world we live in. Beautifully illustrated throughout, each month includes sections on stargazing, windowsill gardening, seasonal vegan recipes, home organisation, crafting ideas, digital wellbeing practices, rituals, book club reads, folklore or ancient wisdom as told by modern women from different walks of life, and free space for your own writing.

THE TREE FORAGER
40 Extraordinary Trees & What to Do with Them
Adele Nozedar, Illustrated by Lizzie Harpur,
Foreword by Volker Bertelmann (aka Hauschka)

Foraging is one of the fastest-growing nature-related pastimes in the UK and US. This is the only foraging book to focus on what is arguably everyone’s favourite plant – trees! It profiles 40 incredible trees from the UK and US – from apple, ash and bay to walnut, willow and yew, all gorgeously illustrated with colour botanical illustrations. We can forage from trees not only for food, but also for home remedies, for ingredients to use in cocktails and ferments, and for materials to make toys, musical instruments and other useful things. Did you know that you can grind acorns into flour to make pancakes, for example, or use oak galls for ink? Or that willow can be used for weaving; and ash, hazel and oak are all good for making charcoal? Packed full of recipes and things to do, there are also helpful recognition tips. Overall it traces the fascinating story of the relationship between humankind and trees.

Adele Nozedar is an author, a food writer and a passionate forager. Her books include Foraging with Kids, The Hedgerow Handbook and The Garden Forager. Founder of Brecon Beacons Foraging, Adele leads walks in the UK, Spain, Italy, Greece and India.
DAMANHUR
Social Alchemy, Magical Temples and the Superindividual
Jeff Merrifield

For more than four decades the spiritual-artistic community of Damanhur has grown to become a prime mover in terms of spiritual research and the protection of the planet. A group of people which has remained a stable entity over all those years, they have developed fascinating and unique tools to enhance their shared experiences, finding new ways for whole communities to function and create as one.

Damanhur is also going out into the world, and likewise, groups of indigenous peoples are treading a path to Damanhur, sharing shamanic knowledge and forming mutual bonds on a mission to make the world a better place.

It’s an inspiration to families, to workplaces, to other communities and to movements like Extinction Rebellion. How do we transform society from the ground up? How can we both flourish as individuals and work together in community?

Jeff Merrifield has had over 45 years’ professional involvement in Community Arts. He lives in Shetland.

SALTWATER IN THE BLOOD

Surfing, Natural Cycles and the Sea’s Power to Heal
Easkey Britton

This is an inspiring exploration of the sea’s role in the wellness of people and the planet, beautifully written by Easkey Britton – big-wave surfer, scientist and social activist. She offers a powerful female perspective on the sea and surfing, explaining what it’s like, as a big-wave surfer, to be a woman in a man’s world. She has developed her own approach to surfing, which instead of seeking to dominate the waves at all times, works in tune with the natural cycles of her body, the moon and the seasons. For Easkey, the sea is a source of mental and physical wellbeing. She explores the mental toughness needed in big-wave surfing, and presents surfing as an embodied mindfulness practice in which we can find flow and connect with the movement of the waves. And she stresses that we need to recognize the ocean as our most powerful ally when it comes to addressing our greatest challenge: the climate crisis.

Dr Easkey Britton is a big-wave surfer, writer, artist, film-maker, coach and marine social scientist, with a PhD in Environment and Society. Her promotion of female surfing in Iran is explored in her TEDx talk, Just Add Surf, and the award-winning documentary Into the Sea. Find out more at: www.easkeybritton.com.
Noticing synchronicity – or random coincidences that strike us as meaningful – allows us to align our life path with the flow of the universe. This is the first-ever oracle to match symbols in order to draw on the power of synchronicity, giving you insight into your problems, answering your questions and highlighting previously unconsidered patterns and potential pathways in your life.

There are 57 hexagonal cards in the deck, each with 8 symbols, plus an 80pp booklet profiling each of the 57 symbols and giving instructions. Whether you are drawing two cards for instant insight or creating more complex spreads for deeper understanding of a situation, the idea is to see which symbols match and then interpret these symbols using the booklet and your own subconscious. The booklet offers a contemplation and a meditation for each symbol to help you interpret the symbols. A wide range of symbols are featured, including Jungian archetypes, contemporary icons and images from alchemy, science and mysticism. What can synchronicity tell you?

ALEISTER CROWLEY’S FOUR BOOKS OF MAGICK

Liber ABA
Aleister Crowley, introduced and edited by Dr Stephen Skinner

This is one of the most groundbreaking works on the practice of magick ever written. The masterpiece of occultist Aleister Crowley, it brings together rituals, received texts and insights into magick, culminating in The Book of the Law, the sacred text dictated to Crowley by a preternatural entity. For the first time, expert on Western esoteric traditions, Dr. Stephen Skinner, introduces the text, sharing his insights into Crowley’s take on yoga, ceremonial magick and Thelema. His long involvement with magick enables Dr. Skinner to highlight the differences between the psychological and the spirit-orientated approaches to magick, and to show how that dilemma shaped Crowley’s practice and his founding of Thelema.

Aleister Crowley (1875–1947) was an occultist, ceremonial magician and philosopher. As well as being a prolific writer, he interpreted a new tarot called the Thoth. He founded the religion of Thelema.

Dr Stephen Skinner is an expert in 15th and 16th-century manuscripts, having edited Dr John Dee’s Spiritual Diaries. He has written more than 40 books on Western esoteric traditions and has published many works by Aleister Crowley. Find out more at: www.sskinner.com.
In this beautifully illustrated gift edition, you’ll discover more than 240 mythological tales from around the world, featuring gods, heroes, princesses, villains, magicians and monsters, as well as animals with extraordinary powers. Let this collection guide you through stories from every corner of the globe, from ancient Egypt, Greece and Rome through the Vikings to the Slavic East, Japan and China and the Americas. Each culture is rich in folklore and magical tales, and this book offers a fascinating introduction to them all.

From tales of creation and the first humans to apocalyptic battles at the end of time, explore the most thrilling tales in all mythology: thunder god Thor losing his hammer, Theseus callously abandoning Ariadne after defeating the Minotaur, Hindu god Shiva destroying his rival Kama with a blast of flame, Egyptian goddess Isis forcing the sun god to reveal his name … and much more.

Tony Allen worked for many years with Time-Life Books, including as an author and consultant on Myth and Mankind, a 20-volume study of comparative mythology. His many books include Vikings, Ancient Rome and The Mythic Bestiary.
WHEN PLANTS DREAM
Ayahuasca, Amazonian Shamanism and the Global Psychedelic Renaissance
Daniel Pinchbeck with Sophia Rokhlin

When Plants Dream is the first book of its kind to look at the science and culture of ayahuasca, from its historical use to its appropriation by the West. When Plants Dream explores the economic, social, political, cultural and environmental impact of ayahuasca on society. The book looks at its cultural origins, and the role and practices of the ayahuasquero in both Amazonian and Western cultures. The authors present the most up-to-date biomedical research, psychedelic science and psychopharmacology, and conclude with a look at the future of ayahuasca, and the impact it is having on cultures beyond the Amazon.

Daniel Pinchbeck co-founded the web magazine Reality Sandwich and the online platform evolver.net. His essays and articles have appeared in The New York Times, Esquire and Rolling Stone.

Sophia Rokhlin is an author, a speaker and a non-profit organizer dedicated to supporting the conservation of indigenous wisdom and territories.
USE YOUR PSYCHIC POWERS TO HAVE IT ALL
Release Your Psi-Force for Health, Wealth, Success & Peace of Mind

Uri Geller

This is a guide to releasing your Psi-Force and using it for whatever purpose you want. Your psi-force will help you excel at sport, outsmart your boss, win at games, make friends, attract a lover, overcome illness and depression, come to terms with disaster, be a financial success, and, above all, be happy and content. But you must learn to channel your psychic powers your way. Uri will teach you how to get the best out of your particular talent using the dynamic force that is in you already, just waiting to be awakened. The book is packed full of tests to assess your psychic potential, plus step-by-step guidance to working with psi-force, from reading other people’s thoughts, to out-psyching your boss, to drawing on psi-force to manifest your desired outcomes.

THE GOBLIN MARKET TAROT
In Search of Faery Gold
John Matthews, Illustrated by Charles Newington

This is a faery tarot with a difference, portraying faeries as they really are: sly, frequently cruel, clever and full of secrets, rather than the whimsical creatures beloved of the New Age. It’s the world of Christina Rossetti’s “The Goblin Market”, a place frequented by all the denizens of the Otherworld. This 80-card deck, with 176-page guidebook, offers a tarot of wit and wickedness, of challenge and uncertainty, of wonder and truth. Enter a haunted world of falling towers, crumbling walls and tangled woods, of fallen trees and bones threaded with vines and spiked roses. Prepare to be enspelled ... and to discover the answers to your questions and dilemmas. Includes the full text of “The Goblin Market”, the 1862 poem now read by many as a fable of lesbian empowerment.

John Matthews is the New York Times bestselling author of several bestselling divinatory systems based on early spiritual beliefs, including the Arthurian Tarot and the Wildwood Tarot.

Charles Newington’s art has been shown worldwide. He has created art for Led Zeppelin and other rock bands, as well as the giant White Horse Hill Figure above the Channel Tunnel entrance.

Written for those who experience mental illness, or whose loved ones are going through such episodes, or who are mental wellbeing practitioners, this is a guide to the potentially transformational experience of what we label mental illness. It explores the ancient concept of the “shamanic sickness”, whereby the prospective shaman underwent many years of mental distress as part of their initiation, and argues that, in some cases, what we seek to medicate could actually be a calling to a path of service and healing. What we define as pathological, many cultures see as a sign of being in touch with greater powers. It also explores how we, as a species, have come out of balance in our relationship to nature and the devastating effect this is having on our mental health. By learning from ancient indigenous cultures who have remained in balance with the natural world, this book looks at solutions to heal this modern imbalance and find a way forward for the Earth and ourselves.

Jez Hughes is a shamanic healer, teacher and founder of the training centre Second Sight Healing. A popular speaker, he has been profiled widely in national media. He is the UK’s main cultural liaison for the indigenous Wixarika (Huichol) tribe from Mexico.
This is a practical manual on Tantra in all its aspects from one of the UK’s leading Tantra teachers. Firmly rooted in the ancient Indian tradition, the book shows how Tantra can be applied to every aspect of our daily lives.

Based on the author’s legendary workshops that attract attendees from across Europe and North America, especially Sweden, Austria, USA, Germany, Spain and the Czech Republic, Living Tantra brings the essence and core message of Tantra into relevance for our contemporary life and society as a path of spiritual growth and human development. The principles of Living Tantra are to use all life, all experience, to learn and become more conscious of ourselves and the world around us, to care more for ourselves, each other and the world, and to develop greater compassion. Tantra includes everything. It is “the weaving together of all that is”.

Jan Day trained for 15 years with Art of Being founder and, like her, former Osho follower, Alan Lowen, as well as being a CTA certified coach. Her work has been featured in The Times, The Daily Telegraph and The Observer.
This book is a guide to the spiritual path that clearly reveals the signposts of success on the journey, as well as the blockages and traps that hold us back from a life of presence, meaning and enlightenment. By laying out the signs and blockages clearly and honestly and with a lot of love and humour, the book offers a wonderful resource for growth. Whatever level of freedom the reader feels drawn to – basic human freedom, or the great goal of the spiritual life of enlightenment – this roadmap will guide readers to tread the path of their ordinary life and receive the benefit in the here and now. In addition to sharing encouraging real-life stories, the books offers a huge range of tools and practices, from using writing and drawing to explore your teachability to self-reflections designed to expand awareness and let go of ego, to instructions for effective, safe, meditative practices little known in the West.

John Siddique is a teacher, writer and poet who has published seven previous books. He runs retreats and classes with students around the world, and offers meditations via the Insight Timer app and live classes via the Wellness Coach app. Find out more at: www.authenticliving.life.
THE NEW HERETICS
Understanding the Conspiracy Theories Polarizing the World
Andy Thomas

This is the most balanced and well-reasoned investigation available into why people believe today's highly divisive conspiracy theories, from COVID and QAnon to 5G scares, fake news and more. Through their part in some huge controversies, conspiracy theorists are being branded the Number One Enemies of our times – the new heretics. They are seen to threaten the very fabric of modern society, spreading doubts and fears that result in Washington Capitol invasions, transmission mast burnings or the spread of anti-vax material. Yet the theorists prefer to call themselves “truth seekers” and see the mainstream establishment as the real disruptor, treating its increasingly harsh censorship as direct validation of their views. This book explores the proliferation of conspiracy thinking, peeling back unhelpful layers of biased thinking on all sides to find more insightful ways to bridge the polarised divides and create a better way forward.

Andy Thomas is an author, speaker and one of the world’s leading researchers into conspiracy theories and unexplained mysteries. He lectures around the globe and appears regularly on TV and radio. Find out more at: www.truthagenda.org.
This is a unique guide to coping with challenging people using practical Zen and mindfulness tools. It helps readers explore their reactions, break free from knee-jerk response patterns and see if these people may in fact prove to be useful teachers in life – troublesome Buddhas. In this book, Mark Westmoquette draws on personal experience of profound tragedy. He stresses that the only way we can grow is by facing our pain, acknowledging how we feel and how we’ve reacted, and making an intention or commitment to end the repeating pattern of suffering. By bringing awareness and kindness to these relationships, our initial stance of “I can’t stand this person, they need to change” will naturally shift into something much broader and more inclusive. The book makes playful use of Zen koans – apparently nonsensical phrases or stories – to help jar us out of habitual ways of perceiving the world and nudge us toward a new perspective of wisdom and compassion.

Mark Westmoquette has a PhD in astrophysics, and is an ordained Zen monk and a yoga and mindfulness teacher.
Medical Intuition is designed to assess the root causes of bodily imbalance in order to promote physical, emotional, mental and spiritual wellbeing. This is the most nuanced guide to the practice, exploring what it is, what it is not and how it can enhance your own healing and wellness, and those of patients. Myths and taboos about intuition being a “special gift” only for the few are exploded. The four major “clairs”, such as clairvoyance, are outlined so people can understand how they experience at least one of these natural human traits regularly (a self-test is included). The book includes many research and case studies in the use of intuition in healthcare and the restoration of health. It also provides information on how to use intuitive Meta-Visual Scanning to avoid burnout and promote resiliency, and Energy Hygiene skills, including energy grounding and protection, to reduce the sense of being overwhelmed.

Wendie Colter has been a professional medical intuitive for more than 20 years. The founder/CEO of The Practical Path®, Inc., she offers intuitive development programs to clinical health professionals, complementary and alternative practitioners and the general public. What is “compleating”? Completely eating every part of a fruit or vegetable! Ellen Tout, sustainability expert and dedicated vegan, is passionate about maximizing the benefits of veganism, and through just a few simple tips, tricks and ingenious recipes she can revolutionize the way you cook. Transform banana skins into pulled “pork”; give new life to leftover wine by making your own vinegar; forget everything you knew about kiwi by whipping up a batch of “whole kiwi” salsa for tacos. Arranged alphabetically, not only does each section include internationally-inspired recipes, but also environmentally-friendly alternatives to household cleaning, beauty products and pet food. “Compleat” recipes use every part of an ingredient, such as Pumpkin Pie with Caramelized Seeds or Carrot Top Tabouleh, while techniques such as pickling, fermenting and broths can maximize the flavour and use of any off-cuts.

Ellen Tout is a writer, journalist and digital editor. She is Psychologies magazine’s “Eco Worrier” columnist and the Eco Living Editor. She has also worked with Pebble magazine, Sony Pictures Entertainment, Culture Trip and The Great Outdoors magazine.
The Witch’s Feast invites you to the ritual table, to engage with the craft through cooking, eating and sharing delicious feasts with others. Written by herbalist, witch and chef Melissa Madara, this book reveals the storied history of kitchen witchcraft. Through decadent recipes, accompanied by correspondences, lore and historical context, this practical introduction to magical cooking explores five facets of the occult tradition: traditional pagan dishes, cooking through the wheel of the zodiac, devotional meals to the planets, seasonal feasts to celebrate solstices and equinoxes, and practical spellwork through food and potions. Full of sumptuous photography, this book not only makes inspiration for any cook but also a workable praxis for exploring manifestation and spiritual art.

Melissa Madara is the co-owner of Catland Books and editrix at Venefica Magazine, a radical arts & occulture journal. Graduate of New York’s The Natural Gourmet, Melissa runs the gamut from traditional french pastry to health-focused meal planning. Melissa has been featured in The New York Times, Vogue and Vice for their work as a witch.
Spice-packed, punchy, fresh Indian-inspired dishes to get on the table in 30 minutes or less. This is the food that Nisha Katona, TV chef and creator and face of the Mowgli Indian restaurants, cooks at home – super speedy, delivering big, bold flavours and made with accessible ingredients, often just using what’s already in the cupboard or fridge. All the recipes are meals that range from light lunches to substantial dinners; all you need to do is accompany them with one of the simple sides suggested in the introduction. Tantalize your tastebuds with Quick Angry Tandoori or Yoghurt Coriander Turkey, Gingerbread Lamb Steaks or Keema Toasties, Bengali Fish Curry or Indian Fish Finger Sandwiches, Back of the Fridge Curry or Million Dollar Green Dahl. This is the food that real people want: tasty and nutritious meals to whip up in half an hour without fuss while juggling work and childcare in an often chaotic working-from-home environment.

Nisha Katona MBE is a curry evangelist, the creator of the Mowgli restaurant chain and author of the bestselling Mowgli Street Food. She appears regularly on the BBC, ITV and BBC Radio 4, and is the presenter of the Channel 4 series A Taste of Italy.

The laws of physics acting on the planet of Jai have been forever upended, causing chaos. Fearing heresy, the artificially intelligent Gods that ruled the galaxy became the planet’s jailers.

Tiv Hunt, who once trusted these Gods, spends her days helping the last remaining survivors of Jai. Everyone is fighting for their freedom and they call out for drastic action from their saviour, Yasira. But she has become deeply ill, debilitated by her Outside exposure, barely able to breathe let alone lead a revolution.

Hunted by the Gods and Akavi, the disgraced angel, Yasira and Tiv must delve further than ever before into the maddening mysteries of their fractured planet in order to save – or perhaps destroy – their fading world.

Julie Riley is over-educated, under-employed, and kept mostly numb by her pharma emplant. Her best friend, who she interacts with via virtual reality, has left with the colony mission to Proxima Centauri. And the world is literally coming to an end. Things are pretty tough.

When Julie’s mother decides it’s time to move out of the family home, Julie runs away, illegally, hoping to find and hide with the Volksgeist. They are a loose-knit culture of tramps, hoboes, senior citizens, artists, and never-do-wells who have elected to ride out the end of the world in their campers and converted vans, and take a road trip till the end of the world.

R.W.W. Greene is a teacher and writer in New Hampshire. He is a frequent panelist at the Boskone Science Fiction and Fantasy Convention in Boston. He keeps bees, collects typewriters, and lives with spouse Brenda and two cats.
When you are all out of heroes, all that’s left are the villains...

Black Herran was a dread demonologist, and the most ruthless general in all Essoran. She assembled the six most fearsome warriors to captain her armies: a necromancer, a vampire lord, a demigod, an orcish warleader, a pirate queen, and a twisted alchemist. Together they brought the whole continent to its knees... Until the day she abandoned her army, on the eve of total victory.

40 years later, she must bring her former captains back together for one final stand, in the small town of Tarnbrooke to defeat a fanatical new enemy tearing through the land.

Seven bloodthirsty monsters. One town. Their last hope.

Cameron Johnston is a British Fantasy Award and Dragon Awards nominated author. He is a swordsman, a gamer, and an enthusiast of archaeology, history and mythology. He loves exploring ancient sites and camping out under the stars by a roaring fire.
The long war with the Sa’ba Taalor has ended, but the land of Fellein does not know peace - only ceaseless change.

A spate of murders draw the interest of Darsken Murdrow of the Inquisition, until the hunter becomes the hunted. Andover Lashk of the Iron Hands seeks a home in a world in which he no longer fits. An unholy necromancer steals souls, makes sacrifices, and sows fear.

And in the barren wastelands of the Wellish Steppes, the army of the Godless gathers. Driven from their homeland, abandoned by their deities, the Godless now follow the banner of a new Master, and are thirsty for blood.

THE PARATWA SAGA
Liege-Killer, Ash Ock and The Paratwa
Christopher Hinz

Liege-Killer – Two hundred years after a nuclear apocalypse forced humanity to flee earth, humans still remember the most feared warriors of that planet – the Paratwa. These are genetically modified killers who occupy two bodies controlled by one vicious mind. The legendary Paratwa named Reemul, known as the Liege-Killer, was the strongest of them all. Now someone has revived Reemul from stasis and sent him to terrorize the peaceful orbital colonies of Earth.

Ash Ock – The new generation of Paratwa is far deadlier than the old, forming a powerful caste of fighter known as the Ash Ock. A mysterious virus infecting the humans database signals the return of their most feared enemies...

The Paratwa – The Paratwa chronicles the lives of the Irryan colonists as they prepare for the imminent attack of the fierce and vicious Paratwa assassins. Facing the threat of their dark enemies, Gillian must also cope with his inner turmoil, as the madness of his nature threatens to consume his life.
THE CABINET
Un-Su Kim
Translated by Sean Lin Halbert

Winner of the Munhakdongne Novel Award, Korea’s most prestigious literary prize

Cabinet 13 looks exactly like any normal filing cabinet...Except this cabinet is filled with files on the ‘symptomers’, humans whose strange abilities and bizarre experiences might just mark the emergence of a new species. But to the harried office worker whose job it is to look after the cabinet, the symptomers are a headache; especially the one who won’t stop calling every day, asking to be turned into a cat.

A richly funny and fantastical novel about the strangeness of even the most everyday lives, from a vital voice in South Korean fiction.”

Un-Su Kim made his debut as a writer in 2002 through the Jinju News Fall Literary Contest with short stories, Easy Breezy Writing Class and Dan Valjean Street and the DongA Ilbo Spring Literary Contest with his mid-length novel Farewell, Friday. His crime thriller The Plotters was published in English to critical acclaim in 2019.
FORGING A NIGHTMARE
Patricia A. Jackson

An idealistic FBI agent tracks down a serial killer with an obsession for victims born with twelve fingers and toes.

Unknown to Humanity, the descendants of Fallen Angels live among us. After millennia of living in anonymity, a serial killer has discovered their secret and has marked them for death. FBI Agent Michael Childs is brought in to investigate a series of grisly murders – the only link between them is that they were all born with twelve fingers and twelve toes, known in occult circles as the Nephilim, a forsaken people.

Patricia A. Jackson is a high-school Language Arts teacher in Pennsylvania. She has published a number of short stories for the WestEnd Games quarterly the Star Wars Adventure Journal. Her hobbies include gaming, grading endless flash fiction from her students, running a D&D club at her school, and competing in equestrian hunter/jumper competitions.
When Cisco Collins returns to his town thirty years after saving it from being swallowed by hell mouth, he realises that being a hero isn’t at all like it was in the movies. Especially when nobody remembers.

When the tendrils of the pirate’s powers creep back into the world, and people start dying, only he knows what’s happening. With the help of a strange black fox, a stone giant, an enchanted forest, a childhood crush and an array of 80s video games consoles turned into weapons, Cisco must convince his friends to help him save not only the town, but the world.

But the four of them quickly discover that being a ghostbusting hero isn’t so easy when you have schools runs, parent evenings and nativity plays to attend. Don’t forget the snacks and baby wipes!

Dan Hanks is a writer, editor, and vastly overqualified archaeologist. He’s lived everywhere from London to Hertfordshire to Manchester to Sydney, explaining the panic in his eyes anytime someone asks “where are you from?”. He is now settled in the rolling green hills of the Peak District with his human family and fluffy sidekicks.
When he was a boy, Razvan trained as a translator for the hated Keda, the mute enslavers of his city, Val Kedić. They keep a tight hold on the citizens of Val Kedić by forcing their children work in the dangerous mines from the age of eleven until eighteen. By learning fingerspeak – the Keda’s touch language – Razvan was able to avoid such a punishment. As a man, Razvan works as an interpreter for the Keda court. He does not enjoy his work, but keeps his head down to protect his son.

Now the city is under siege by a new army who are perhaps even more cruel than their current enslavers. At the same time, a mysterious rebellion force has reached out to Razvan with a plan to utilize the incoming attack to defeat the Keda once and for all. Razvan must decide which side to fight on, who can be trusted, and what truly deserves to be saved.

Repeater

Repeater intends to add its voice to those movements that wish to enter history and assert control over its currents, gathering together scattered and isolated voices with those who have already called for an escape from Capitalist Realism. Our desire is to publish in every sphere and genre, combining vigorous dissent and a pragmatic willingness to succeed.

To be working-class in a middle-class world is to be a ghost. Our only choice is between either assimilation into the middle-class world, or total annihilation.

In The Melancholia of Class, Cynthia Cruz analyses how this choice has played out in the lives of working-class musicians, artists, writers, and filmmakers — including Ian Curtis, Amy Winehouse, Jason Molina, Barbara Loden, and many more — and the melancholia that ensues when the working-class subject leaves their origins to “become someone”, only to find that they lose themselves in the process.

Part memoir, part cultural theory, and part polemic, The Melancholia of Class shows us how we can resist assimilation, uplifting and carrying our working-class origins and communities with us, as we break the barriers of the middle-class world.

Cynthia Cruz is the author of six collections of poems and a volume of critical essays.
NEON SCREAMS
How Drill, Trap and Bashment Made Music New Again
Kit Mackintosh, foreword by Simon Reynolds

With a foreword by Simon Reynolds, Neon Screams explores the plethora of new street genres that have emerged at the turn of the 2020s.

Beginning where most future music chronicles end, Mackintosh establishes a new pantheon of pioneers and innovators across a range of genres, from mumble rap to drill to Afrobeats, bashment and beyond. Offering dizzying insights into the likes of Future, Young Thug, Migos and Vybz Kartel, Neon Screams is conceptual weaponry to use against all those who say music isn’t what it used to be.

Part polemic, part synesthetic possession, Neon Screams is essential reading for everyone eager to uncover the new frontiers of future music.

Kit Mackintosh is a musician and producer from London who has collaborated with the likes of This Heat’s Charles Hayward and Ben Watson.
JUNGLIST
Two Fingas & James T. Kirk, introduction by Sukhdev Sandhu

Back in print after two decades and with a new introduction by Sukhdev Sandhu, Junglist tells the compelling, comic, stream-of-consciousness story of four young Black men coming of age amongst the raves and Jungle music of London in the 1990s.

Originally written in 1995 as a way to document street culture as it became a feature of London, and charting a time when working-class kids, both Black and white, merged to dance as “one family”, Junglist is both a testament to Black British sound system culture and a rawthetic account of inner-city life.

Two Fingas (Andrew Green) is a Black Caribbean director and writer. He has worked at the BBC, SKY, ESPN and other broadcasters.

James T. Kirk (Eddie Otchere) is a British-Ghanaian visual journalist. He has exhibited and performed at institutions in the UK and abroad.

“A brilliant, neglected text of London gnosis, backstreet modernism.”
China Miéville

“A real headtrip... here is a living language, taking on new and weird shapes from its concrete habitat.”
The Independent
The story of poppers starts with experiments on frogs legs and the Victorian doctor who first found a use for amyl nitrite in relieving angina pain. It moves through the development of the pharmaceutical industry in the twentieth century, the capitalist creation of the “ideal” gay male, a raid on the Royal Vauxhall Tavern in 1986, and the porn supercuts that encourage viewers to “goon out” online.

But this book is not just a history. It is a collection of fresh and provocative ideas about identity, sex, capitalism, law, freedom and the bodies that we use to experience the world. Exploring the startling connections between Victorian infirmaries, Studio 54 and cam sex subcultures, Deep Sniff: A History of Poppers and Queer Futures tells the tale of a drug and uncovers the queer potential inside us all.

Adam Zmith is a writer. He was the recipient of the London Writers Award 2019-20, and is the author of several shortlisted and published short stories.
The Village that Died for England

Tyneham and the Legend of Churchill’s Pledge

Patrick Wright

Shortly before Christmas in 1943, the British military announced they were taking over a remote valley on the Dorset coast and turning it into a firing range for tanks in preparation for D-Day. The residents of the village of Tyneham loyally packed up their things and filed out of their homes into temporary accommodation, yet Tyneham refused to die.

Back in print with a brand new introduction, this book explores how Tyneham came to be converted into a symbol of posthumous England, a patriotic community betrayed by the alleged humiliations of post-war national history. Both celebrated and reviled at the time of its first publication in 1995, The Village that Died for England is indispensable reading for anyone trying to understand where Brexit came from — and where it might be leading us.

Patrick Wight is Emeritus Professor of Literature, History and Politics at Kings College, London. His books include A Journey Through Ruins, Tank: The Progress of a Monstrous War Machine and The Sea View Has Me Again: Uwe Johnson in Sheerness.
In The Hours Have Lost Their Clock, Grafton Tanner argues that nostalgia is the defining emotion of our time.

Moving from the fight over racist monuments to the collective mourning of species extinction, he traces nostalgia’s ascent in the twenty-first century, revealing its power as both a consequence of our unstable time and a defence against it. The longer we live with endless wars, technological determinism, and economic austerity, he writes, the more nostalgic we will be.

From biased algorithms to the birth of homeland security, and from the rise of far-right extremism to the gentrification of memory itself, The Hours Have Lost Their Clock argues for a resistance against the dangers of nostalgia. Our very future depends on it.

Grafton Tanner is the author of Babbling Corpse and The Circle of the Snake. He lectures at the University of Georgia.
Liara Roux is accustomed to being mislabelled and misunderstood.

As a child, Liara’s inquisitive and rebellious nature was frequently problematized in a world designed around the requirements of her neurotypical, cis, heterosexual male colleagues. Coming of age in an oppressively restrictive home, she shuffled tarot and explored self portraiture to rationalize the injustice of chronic pain, toxic lovers, and the cruel silence of divinity.

Critiquing capitalism’s mechanisms of exploitation, the conservatism of Western medicine, and the politics surrounding sex work, Whore of New York is a candid study of artistic awakening, and both spiritual and sexual growth after abuse, seen through the eyes of a proud outsider.

Liara Roux is a sex worker and political organizer living in NYC. She writes a sexy semi-fictional comic and articles about sex worker’s rights, produces and stars in porn, and is generally up to no good.
In this timely and explosive book, philosopher and “BreadTube” YouTuber Jonas Ćeika (aka CCK Philosophy) re-invigorates socialism for the twenty-first century.

Leaving behind its past associations with bureaucracy and state tyranny, and its lifeless and drab theoretical accounts, Ćeika instead uses the works of Nietzsche and Marx to reconnect socialism with its human element, presenting it as something not only affecting, but created by living, breathing, suffering human individuals.

At a time when ecological collapse is hurtling towards us, and capitalism offers no solution except more growth and exploitation, How to Philosophize with a Hammer and Sickle shows us the way forward to a socialism grounded in human experience and accessible to all.

Jonas Ćeika is a writer based in Norway. He is the creator of the CCK Philosophy YouTube channel, which has over 8 million views and focuses on politics, philosophy and critical theory.
Who are Britain’s ex-servicemen? What do they want? What are their politics? What are the issues which animate them? Are they just irredeemable fascists by dint of their service to Empire? Or is there a radical political potential waiting to be unlocked?

Former soldier Joe Glenton takes us on a guided tour through ex-forces life at the heart of a dead empire as he attempts to demystify military culture, rescue the veteran from his captors, and discover if a more optimistic, humanist mode of veteranhood can be recovered from the ruins.

Joe Glenton is a journalist, filmmaker the award-winning author of Soldier Box: Why I Won’t Return to the War on Terror. He was a British soldier from 2004 to 2010, serving in Afghanistan. He has written on defence, war and the military for Declassified UK, Vice, The Independent, The Guardian, Vice and others.
Eastern Europeans in Britain
Yva Alexandrova

Drawing on personal experience, interviews and research, Yva Alexandrova tells hers and the stories of other Eastern Europeans that have come to the UK over the last twenty years, showing how attitudes to immigration have changed in the wake of Brexit and a new wave of nativism that has swept across Britain.

She argues that both the right and the left have made political compromises on migration, and makes a passionate and vivid argument for fair and just migration that is grounded in people’s lived experiences and aspirations, and not in political expediency, as integral to progressive movements today.

At a time when racism and nationalism dominate political discussion in the UK and around the world, Here to Stay tells the stories of people who are rarely seen in debates about immigration.

Yva Alexandrova is a Bulgarian writer. She leads the policy work of the UN International Organisation for Migration mission in Bahrain.
Leonard Swanson lives in an obscure north-western town, the kind that “has a knack for swallowing you whole”. He is supposed to be making the greatest rap album of all time, Swan Songs, but is instead forced to work in one of the town’s factories, “picking things up and putting them down for twelve hours in a giant white room”.

Swan Songs follows Leonard as he works, quits, signs on, and travels the country, playing in small capacity venues for even smaller capacity audiences, all the while making the album he thinks will change hip-hop forever.

Part Alan Sillitoe and part William Burroughs, UK rapper Lee Scott’s debut novel, partially based on his own experiences of becoming a rapper in Runcorn, is an experimental and humorous modern satire about the perils of being a hip-hop visionary far from the beaten track.

Lee Scott is a rapper and producer from Runcorn. He founded the label Blah Records and has released eight solo albums.
